LONG LIVE COUNTRY MUSIC

Long Live Country Music – where history, heart, and hit songs come alive.

About

An acoustic circle in the middle of a two-hour country show gives LONG LIVE COUNTRY MUSIC its most intimate turn. The cast gathers to salute artists including Merle Haggard, Johnny Cash, and Willie Nelson, alongside a broader program of current and classic country.

Ronnie Lee Keel hosts and performs, while emerging artists such as Collin Donley contribute short sets of original music. The Las Vegas backing band is led by bassist Scott Woodward, with MacKenzie Kerr on drums, Brian Shute on guitar, and Jason Haven on lead guitar. The familiar songs and new voices share the same stage.

Short bio

Long Live Country Music delivers a two-hour mix of current and classic country performed by top-shelf singers and seasoned Las Vegas musicians. The show pays tribute to major country stars, adds short original-music segments from up-and-coming national artists, and includes an intimate acoustic tribute to country legends.

Full press bio

Long Live Country Music is a two-hour performance of current and classic country, featuring top-shelf singers and seasoned Las Vegas musicians. The cast matches the looks, voices, and personalities of the singers they portray, while covering artists from Lainey Wilson, Jason Aldean, and Luke Combs to Johnny Cash, Merle Haggard, Willie Nelson, and George Strait. The show includes short headline segments from up-and-coming national country artists, an intimate acoustic tribute to country legends, patriotic country anthems, and a free meet & greet with the cast afterward.
